DETAILED ACTION

Prelim./Amdt.

1. Receipt is acknowledged of the preliminary amendment filed 10/06/2004.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Montet et al. (US 6,435,704 B1).

4. Re claim 1: Montet discloses a lighting unit provided with a concave reflector (100) having an axis of symmetry (X in Fig. 2) and with a light emission window bounded by an edge of the reflector which surrounds the axis transversely thereto, and an elongate light source (150) which is axially arranged substantially on the axis of symmetry (See 150 and X in Fig. 2) and which is accommodated in a holder (see the holder 152 of light source) opposite the light emission window, and a cup-shaped axially positioned cap (400 in Fig. 14) serving as an optical screening means that partly surrounds the light source for intercepting un-reflected light rays, characterized in that the cap is surrounded at a distance d by a screening ring (see the ring 420 in Fig. 13 having a distance d and a height h) which extends over a height h in the direction of the light emission window.

Art Unit: 2875

5. Re claim 2: Montet discloses the screening ring extends at the side facing the holder up to a plane transverse to the axis of symmetry and defined by the cup-shaped cap (col. 9, lines 10-12).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 4-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Montet as applied to claim1 above, and further in view of Massen et al. (EP 0336478) cited by applicant.

8. Re claims 4-5: With regard to claimed limitations in claim 5, Montet disclose the light source is a discharge lamp. Montet does not disclose the discharge lamp is a metal halide lamp with a ceramic vessel. Massen discloses a discharge lamp having a discharge vessel and a cap. Further, Massen teaches a variety of types of electric lamp including a metal halide lamp (Specification page 2, lines 49-52) may be used in the luminaire. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to substitute Montet's discharge lamp with a metal halide discharge lamp because of Massen' suggestion. Further, Massen discloses the reflector and light source is indetachably integrated into a lamp (See Fig. 1).

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claim 3 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

10. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:
With regard to claimed limitation in claim 3, the prior art of record does not teach the screening ring forms part of a conical surface with a maximum apex angle of 10 degree.
